

Who Depends on the Bay-Delta? We all do.

The Bay-Delta provides drinking water for 22 million people. It supports California's trillion-dollar economy, including its $27 billion agricultural industry, and local homes and infrastructure. It is the largest estuary on the west coast - home to 750 plant and animal species - and it supports 80 percent of the state's commercial salmon fisheries.